Dear Judge [Last Name],

I am writing to respectfully request the reconsideration and dismissal of the no contact order currently in place against me, pertaining to case number [Case Number]. My relationship with [Other Party's Name], I believe, has improved significantly to a point where we are both willing to engage in mediation and counseling.

Since the imposition of the no contact order, I have adhered strictly to all conditions set forth and have engaged in [any rehabilitation programs, therapy, or community service]. Attached, you will find documents that substantiate my claims, including [list any documents you are including such as therapy certificates, letters from employers, etc.].

I understand the seriousness of the situation that led to the initial decision and have taken measurable steps to ensure a positive change in circumstances that I believe warrants a reevaluation of the order.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration. I have the utmost respect for your judgment and will fully respect and comply with the court's decision, regardless of the outcome.

Respectfully,
